SENSHIN
BUDDHIST TEMPLE

Support Senshin with your Gift

Dana means to give, whether in goods, money, or of oneself. In its deepest meaning

GIVING

Dana means to give of oneself for the sake of another, without regard or concern for recognition or benefit. Senshin Temple traditionally operated financially on Dana, or conditionless donations. Although this is still the case, a more Americanized form of Membership dues and opportunities for making a financial contribution have been included to bring needed additional income to the temple.

How does my donation help Senshin?

Your contribution to Senshin will go to the General Operations of the Temple, including maintenance of the facilities, temple activities and services.

In recent years, costs to operate the temple have increased, while donations have remained level. Increasing fundraising activities will be difficult for our Sangha to take on.

Your donation provides important support to the ongoing activities and operations of Senshin Buddhist Temple.

This gift will not be directed to special funds, such as the Senshin-ji Building Fund..

Will I receive a receipt for my donation?

Any contribution is gratefully received. Our temple policy is to provide written receipts for donations for $250 and more.
